

Siena:

An animated anti-war film about the experience of growing up in a conflict zone

Restate your research problem/question :

What are the emotional challenges of young people growing up in conflict zones, and how do those experiences carry over to their adult lives? Does it inform their identity or change them?

State the type of process that you will follow /use to tackle your problem (animated film process, architecture design process, etc). Include a link!

Animated Film Process :)

<https://studiopigeon.com/blog/the-animation-process-step-by-step-guide/>

State the different phases and methodologies of your process (1. Research, 2. Creation, 3. Testing, & repeat!)

Research (Interviews, define project limitations)

Stage 1: Creation (story development, storyboarding, concept art, mood board)

Stage 2: Creation (sound development, asset development, animation)

Testing: Focus group

Next, break down each methodology and write a paragraph or bullet points to 1) describe what it will look like and 2) what goals do you want to achieve by the end of this methodology phase?

methodology